A charge, as reflected below, will be assessed to the account holder as payment for implementing this order.

Refer to Appendix Five for explanation of the Return Reason Codes used in relation to stop payments. The stop payment return reason code for all ACH items is R08. Transaction Type Definitions

ACH: An ACH debit is an electronic transaction to an account that has been pre-authorized by the account holder. It may be a one-time debit or recurring. When placing a stop payment on a recurring ACH transaction, you are stopping one payment only, but future debits may continue to be posted. If you wish to stop payment on all future transactions, you must contact the Originator. A PPD is a consumer transaction, and CCD and CTX are corporate transactions.

Electronic Check:

Point-of-Purchase (POP) - An ACH debit that was initiated based on account information captured at the point of purchase from a check obtained from the Receiver.

Represented Checks (RCK) - An ACH debit initiated to re-present a paper check that has been returned for insufficient or uncollected funds.

Accounts Receivable Check (ARC) - An ACH debit used for the conversion of a check received via the U.S. mail or at a dropbox location for the payment of goods or services.

Internet-Initiated Entries (WEB) - An ACH debit that was authorized over the Internet. These can be single entries or recurring.

Telephone-Initiated Entries (TEL) - An ACH debit that was authorized over the telephone. This is a one-time (single) entry.

Back Office Conversion (BOC) - An ACH debit initiated for payments made by check either at the point of purchase or at a manned bill payment location, where the check is converted to ACH during back office processing.

Paper Check Items (These clear through regular check processing channels):

Check/Share Draft - A draft for funds written by an account holder, drawn on a checking or share draft account. This item bears the account holder's signature.

Paper Draft - A paper check that was not written by the account holder but that was authorized by the account holder (e.g., over the phone). This item does not bear the account holder's signature.
